REMEMBER THY MOTHER.

Lead thy mother tenderly.

Down the steps of life.

Once her arm was thy support.

Now she leans on thine.

See upon her loving face

Those deep lines of care.

Think it was her toil for thee

That thou art here.

Never forget her tireless watch

Kept by day and night.

Tasting from her own the grace

From her eye the light.

Cherish her with all thy heart.

Which, through weary years,

Endured, with its sympathy.

All thy smiles and tears.

Thank God for thy mother's love!

Guard the priceless hour

For the better parting hour

When thy grateful tenderness

Shall power to save.

Earth will hold no dearer spot

Than thy mother's grave.

THE AGRICULTURAL BUREAU.

A Matter in Which Every Farmer and Land Owner in Tennessee is Interested.

Information Wanted as to the Actual

Condition of the Soil and State of the Crops.

By a recent act of the Legislature it was made the duty of the Bureau of Agriculture to collect all attainable information as to the actual agricultural condition and undeveloped resources of the State. Very naturally the Bureau turns to the various Agricultural Associations and Farmers' Clubs for assistance and co-operation. In this as in the general work of developing a better system of agriculture, these Associations are invaluable to the Bureau and upon their efficiency the success of the Bureau depends in a large measure its success and future usefulness.

Heretofore, it is true, the various Agricultural Associations in the State have been almost exclusively with getting up and trying to get delightful reunions known as Fairs, and have made but little, if any, effort to collect information as to the conditions of the various counties and sections. Of themselves these annual Fairs are invaluable to the Bu-

success of the Bureau depends in a large

measure its success and future usefulness.

NEVER MIND RISING EARLY.

—All this talk about early rising is moonshine. The habit of turning out of bed in the middle of the night annoys some people, but let them enjoy it. But it is only folly to lay down a general rule upon the subject. Some men are fit for nothing all day after they have risen early in the morning. Their energies are desolated, their imaginations are heavy, their spirits are depressed.

It is said you can work so well in the morning. Some people can, but others can work best at night; others, in the afternoon. Long trial and experience form the only conclusive tests on these points. As for getting up early because Professor Gammon has written letters to the papers proving the necessity of it, let no one be so foolish to do it. We all know the model man everybody knows. I invariably rise at five; I work three hours, take a light breakfast, namely, a cracker and a pinch of salt—work three hours more; never drink anything but barley water; eat no dinner, and go to bed at six in the evening. If anybody finds that donk-eyed sort of life suits him, by all means let him continue it. But few people would care to live in a night of these terms. If a man cannot get well withered and crumpled up on easier terms than those, it is almost as well that he should depart before he is a nuisance to himself and a bore to everybody else.

SPECIFIC FOR DIPHTHERIA.—The

Italian journals publish a letter from Dr. Giovanni Galligani, describing the remarkable success which has attended his treatment of diphtheria with phenic acid. He relates the losses he formerly experienced among his patients, when treating them with calomel, solvents, and cauterization with hydrochloric acid, and observes that this cauterization can no more eradicate the morbid principle than tearing the leaf off a plant will destroy the root.

He now simply uses a gargle of phenic acid and distilled water, with external applications of new fennel; the food and drink to be taken cold. After the adoption of the treatment, Dr. Galligani lost but one patient out of fifty-eight. He requested the Italian journals to publish the discovery. Phenic acid is the agent which is now being used in this country as a remedy for cancer, and seems likely to effect an immense saving of lives formerly hope-
